Social-Ministry Recognized Service Organizations (RSOs)

A Recognized Service Organization is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that is independent of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (LCMS), but its operations foster the mission and ministry of the church, its program activities are in harmony with the Synod, and it agrees to respect and not act contrary to the doctrine and practice of the Synod.

Lutheran social-ministry RSOs are part of Lutheran Services in America, a social-service organization providing services to RSOs that serve one in every 50 Americans in the areas of health care, aging and disability support, community development, housing, and child and family strengthening.
